Impax Asset Management wins Best Fund Management Group at Investment Week Climate Change & Ethical Investment Awards 2012

Impax Asset Management was named Best Fund Management Group at the Investment Week Climate Change Awards 2012, at the awards ceremony in London yesterday.

These awards, now in their fourth year, are judged by an independent panel of industry experts and are designed to identify those funds and asset management groups which are committed to climate change investment themes through their company's actions and their investment in fund management talent dedicated to the sector. This asset class is growing in terms of industry wide assets under management and has gone from being considered by many investors as a niche market five years ago to becoming a mainstream asset class.

Ian Simm, Chief Executive, Impax Asset Management commented:

"The Impax team has been successfully managing investment portfolios targeting resource efficiency and environmental markets for more than fourteen years and has a successful track record of delivering growth across a range of market conditions. This prestigious award is recognition of the depth of expertise and rigour of our investment process across our four listed equity strategies. Looking ahead, the drivers behind resource efficiency and environmental markets continue to strengthen, further underpinning the attractiveness of the sectors in which we invest."

Notes to editors

Founded in 1998, Impax Asset Management (“Impax”) was one of the world’s first managers dedicated to exploiting the investment opportunities created by resource scarcity and demand for cleaner, more efficient products and services through listed and private equity strategies.

Impax now manages £1.8 bn* for institutional and high net worth investors globally, and is committed to providing strong long-term risk-adjusted returns. The company’s team of 28 investment professionals has been assembled for over 13 years.

Impax’s listed equity funds seek out mis-priced companies that are set to benefit from the long-term trends of changing demographics, rising consumption, limited natural resources and urbanisation. Investment is focused on the alternative energy, water, waste and related markets. Impax’s private equity infrastructure funds invest in power generation assets in the renewable energy sector.

Impax is a thought leader in defining the environmental and resource scarcity markets, for example through a partnership with FTSE to develop and manage the classification system underpinning the FTSE Environmental Markets Index Series.
